Snapshot

Youth are the wealth of the society, and a vital source of its productivity and creativity. The characteristics of youth in Asia and Pacific Area today face a highly competitive playing field; they are highly interested in taking part in public affairs, but lack of opportunities and ways to participate; they are a generation that is highly interested in internationalization; a generation highly aware of leisure; a generation that faces new health safety problems. Apart from actively listening to young people, we YMCA and Y' s Men needs to do more in cooperating with government and other NGOs to properly plan a youth personnel resources development policy to deal with changing times and the needs of young people.

“2021 AYCing” Youth Action Plans

Participation, Partner and Engagement The joint-program “2021 AYCing” Youth Action Plan is a model of long-term promotion for YMCA–Y' s Men and other NGO. It is a platform for promoting youth participation through relationship of cooperative partnership and the power of YMCA–Y' s Men and other NGOs. The plan' s contents involve subjects such as construction of communities, local cultural and industrial development, voluntary and communal services, cultivation of education, care of aboriginal tribes and youngsters, and so on. This is a channel in which citizens, social vigor is fully represented and youth participations in citizen' s social activities are developed. Here is our video linking in

Youth, the Power of Moving Society

This “2021 AYCing” Youth Action Plans main processing approach is to recruit young people in public to organize teams in a voluntary way. We need to bring their creative ideas into action as much as possible. After this plan is carried out, through feedback activities, fruitful results and the printing of storybooks, stories about young people can be widely publicized. As a result, it is hoped that there will be more impact so that more young people can feel moved and then care about communities and international services. It is also hoped that young people can fulfill their dreams of changing society.

Conclusion

The purpose of “2021 AYCing” Youth Action Plan is to manifest and practice youth service projects through the local, national and international organizations to contribute to the progress of the communities, as well as to reach the objects of recognizing the youth service work, recruiting new-generation volunteers and making the youth be the asset of society. The goal is to fulfill the service projects nationally (contents and scale of the projects are decided by volunteers). It is also expected that there are youth volunteer organizations involved in each and every district, and that youth volunteers can participate youth volunteer center or society in local district to sustain the coming services and activities. We really wish is to render those programs be the opportunity of participating global service and learning for the youth, and, by connecting with the resources of social group, enterprise, school, community and government, to make young people involve in transforming society and create an abundant world with vision, direction, love Y’ sly.
